STANDING ORDERS

Royal Charter and Statutes

The RCM Royal Charter and Statutes sets out the arrangements for the Council and the Senate, including quoracy, membership, and the conduct of proceedings.

Standing Orders for Committees of the Senate

- The Director, on the advice of the Senate, appoints committee chairs and members. Where appointment to a committee is not determined by virtue of the occupation of a particular post, an appointment will normally be for a period of office of three years.
- The quorum of committees is a minimum of one third of the membership. If a meeting is inquorate, the Chair shall decide whether to proceed with the meeting, taking into account the urgency of the business on the agenda. When a meeting proceeds on this basis, notes will be taken of matters discussed and presented to the next meeting.
- All committees/groups are expected to undertake such other tasks as may be requested by the Senate.
- The Director has an ex officio right to attend meetings of all committees and working groups.
- Meetings of committees are open to interested members of staff to observe. Those wishing to attend must secure the agreement of the Chair at least one full working day before the meeting, as there will sometimes be business where observers are not appropriate. Observers will not normally participate in discussions, unless invited to do so by the Chair.
- Student representatives will be asked to withdraw for agenda items reserved as closed business.
- There will be occasions when action needs to be taken between meetings of a committee. The Chair, taking advice as necessary from the Deputy Director, is empowered to make decisions on the committee's behalf, subject to advance consultation with members wherever possible and operating within the College's regulations and procedures. All decisions taken under Chair's action will be reported to members at the next meeting.

Standing Orders for Boards of Examiners

- Operation of the Chair. There will be occasions when it is not practical to call a meeting of the Board of Examiners, but where rapid decisions are necessary in the interest of individual students. The Chair is empowered, taking advice from the Deputy Director, to make decisions affecting individual students on the Board's behalf, subject to advance consultation with members wherever possible and operating within the course regulations and guidelines. Particular effort will be made to consult external examiners in these circumstances. All Chair's decisions will be reported to members.
- Servicing the Board of Examiners and the Sub-Board of Examiners. The record of all meetings will be drafted by the secretary, who is the relevant administrator. These will remain confidential to members of the board and those who formally advise it.
